Connection to Education

We work with participants as they work on finishing their GED, HS diploma, Certificates, and Degrees. No matter where you are in school, we can help.

We have school supplies, tutoring, study rooms, career exploration, mentoring, and one-on-one academic coaching to help you succeed.

Connection to Advocacy

We work with participants as they work on creating stability in their financial wellness, mental wellness, physical wellness, and emotional wellness.

We serve as advocates for all participants and provide support .

Connection to Housing

We help participants who qualify receive assistance paying for an apartment while they work through the education.

With thirty-two 1-bedroom apartments in our residential program , we have space to help participants build a home while they build their futures.

Connection to Resources

We work with participants to connect with other resources in the community as well: SNAP benefits, health insurance, and other programs to help cover necessities help participants as they build stability.
